

Invenias Extends Innovation Lead in Digital Engagement and Mobile Working

Latest release of platform expands to enhance client and candidate experience

15 March 2016, London

Invenias, the leading cloud-based platform for executive and strategic hiring, has today launched the latest release of its flagship platform, Invenias 8, featuring enhanced innovation in the areas of digital engagement and mobile working. The new innovations comprise of: Invenias InSight, a new way to capture and share high value, unstructured candidate data; Invenias Client, a new client portal enabling the sharing of feedback across the hiring team; Invenias Candidate, a mobile app specifically for candidates; plus Invenias Professional Mobile, offering a unique capability to work whilst on the move via a native app.

All four products empower executive search teams to communicate via branded web and mobile apps in order to drive data directly to their stakeholder's, exponentially increasing the user experience as a result. Further details are below:

Invenias InSight – makes it easy to capture and leverage the high value candidate data that is unique to the private trusted network of the search team and their clients. This highly valuable, unstructured data that typically has not historically been captured, such as scoring, analysis information, team feedback and social-style 'likes', is easily shared with Invenias Insight.

Invenias Client – the client portal is accessible through a uniquely branded web app, enabling executive recruiting teams to give their clients access to review candidate profiles and allowing feedback to be easily shared across the hiring team. This leads to better engagement, collaboration and ultimately, search outcomes.

Invenias Candidate – connects search teams directly with their candidates via a mobile app on their smartphone. Candidates can access information about the person they are meeting, their contact details, map of the interview location and details of the job specification.

Invenias Professional Mobile – this app enables true mobile working, empowering users to access the powerful capabilities of Invenias from their phone or iPad. This allows users to work easily when on the move and delivers an experience that meets their high expectations of using a mobile app.

Commenting on the new release, Seth Harris, Partner at leading US Executive Search firm, ON Partners said: "Invenias has dramatically changed the way that we interact with our clients and candidates. The Invenias platform provides us with actionable intelligence to drive efficiencies, communicate more effectively internally and externally, and provide a better overall client experience."

David Grundy, CEO, Invenias said: "At Invenias we have an ethos of continuous innovation. The world in which search executives operate is constantly evolving and therefore so must our platform. We strive to ensure that our clients have the data they need to be competitive and successful. That means we're constantly challenging ourselves to think differently and to come to market with unique products such as Invenias InSight."

Alongside its digital innovations, Invenias has also announced an expansion to the Invenias Partner Ecosystem, an open API integration framework that enables executive search teams to integrate with other systems and utilize data from these sources, such as Broadbean and the AESC's BlueSteps database of executive-level candidates.
